About Us

Massage & Myotherapy Australia is a brand of the Australian Association of Massage Therapists Limited (AAMT). Formed in 2003 as the leading not-for-profit Association for massage, remedial massage and myotherapy, spanning Australia nationwide with a membership of over 8,500 professionally qualified practitioners. Massage & Myotherapy Australia is the largest massage therapy, remedial massage therapy and myotherapy association in Australia.

Our commitment is to uphold, promote and ensure the highest quality of standards in the field of massage, remedial massage and myotherapy. The Association serves as a valuable resource for both professional practitioners, allied health providers and the public.

Our strong commitment to protecting the public and serving members has led the Association and its membership to high levels of recognition in the industry and health sector.

Vision and Mission

The objectives of Massage & Myotherapy Australia are to encourage a high standard of practice, promote the profession of massage, remedial massage and myotherapy, provide rules of conduct, ethics, and standards and to ensure the quality and delivery of training in Australia.

This is demonstrated in Massage & Myotherapy Australia's' vision and mission statements.

Massage & Myotherapy Australia developed a vision for a future as the:

Leader of the Massage & Myotherapy profession

Our mission establishes the purposes of our existence:

To lead and support our diverse membership towards excellence in practice

Our core values are:

Consistency, effectiveness, integrity, proactivity and respect

What the Association offers you

Massage & Myotherapy Australia is not just an association; we're a thriving community with over 8,500 dedicated members. Our influence extends far beyond our membership: we maintain a strong presence on social media and hold a prominent position in the natural therapy and allied health industries. This influence reaches both nationally and internationally as we have strong connections with other associations and private health funds.

Our reputation as a trusted authority in the field means that our members, the public, and health funds and government departments often turn to us for guidance and expertise. Aligning your brand with Massage & Myotherapy Australia is a powerful way to enhance your organisation's credibility and build trust among your target audience.

Whether your brand is just starting in the industry, already well-established or in the process of expansion, advertising with the Association offers an exceptional opportunity in this ever-evolving industry. Working with Massage & Myotherapy Australia can help generate awareness for your company and establish a solid presence. We're here to support your journey in this dynamic sector.

Generate Leads

Massage & Myotherapy Australia offers a unique platform to connect with a wide-ranging audience, encompassing members, Registered Training Organisations (RTOs), Education Providers and other businesses, nationally and internationally.

Within our extensive network, you'll find a diverse community of aspiring students and highly skilled professional practitioners in the fields of massage therapy, remedial massage, and myotherapy. Moreover, we extend our reach to encompass the businesses associated with these disciplines. This extensive network provides a wealth of opportunities for engagement and collaboration.

Create Tailored Solutions

Massage & Myotherapy Australia is dedicated to helping you showcase your destination, venue, product, or service through a range of marketing channels. We understand the importance of capturing and retaining the attention of your target audience.

Our offerings include customisable marketing packages that can be purchased outright or tailored to your specific needs. Our experienced team at Massage & Myotherapy Australia is ready to collaborate with you to ensure that your marketing strategy aligns with your objectives and reaches your desired consumer base.

Whether you're looking at focusing on education, print, or other avenues, we have the expertise to craft a marketing campaign that is tailored to your business. On the next page, you'll find a list of individual activities that you can sponsor to enhance your marketing efforts. We are more than happy to work closely with you, customising and building a package that seamlessly fits your vision and provides you with the maximum exposure possible.
